John L. Schultz, Mayor

Dear Decatur,

Since Greater Decatur formed in 2012, we've done a lot of talking as a community to determine what is necessary to maintain a vibrant quality of life.

We've talked parks and recreation, downtown revitalization, art, walkability, Stellar Communities and community planning. The conversation among our active community organizations won't end as we continue to plan for the future of our community.

Now, we're ready. Now is the time to make our community plans our community accomplishments. The Greater Decatur Capital Campaign will not only implement our quality of life initiatives, but will also make them sustainable.

The City of Decatur has committed $2 million over the next five years to capital improvements – streetscapes, downtown development, Monroe Street bridge, Rivergreenway expansion, and more. Our commitment is not tied to the Stellar Communities designation, and we will move ahead with the Phase I capital improvement projects. These projects will happen.

My family has already made our commitment to the capital campaign, and we are proud to be a partner. The campaign's goal is 2,000 community partners. What number will you be?

Thank you for considering the Greater Decatur Capital Campaign with your generosity. Life will be greater in Decatur with your support.

Sincerely,
